Hello,

I came across these drawings while cleaning my office and found them quite interesting. These drawings represent the ideal setup for the PCMS classrooms from the architects in '94. Over time, I imagine these were lost. I remember these setups as they were still used when I came through the system, which was the peak enrollment years. The 6th-grade layout, particularly, stands out to me as a student in Mrs. Benoit's class, Larry's wife.

Given that it will be several years before significant changes happen to the building, it is worth exploring these layouts again.
