I was surprised to hear last night, and see this morning Elizabeth Scrifes characterization of the improvements to the cafetorium as merely a "rough idea," to push a study, when in fact it was the basis of option 4, below, which was before the full building committee in 2020. The proposal was not just "presentation materials" used for the purpose of requesting that the town fund a study that "never happened." It was very definitely a project proposal before the full committee, and it is incorrect to say that it was misconstrued by Tim Thompson.

As a member of the committee I understood it to be as fully thought out as the other three options before the committee at that time, all of which were in the concept stage.
