Hi Larry, Tim and SBAC-

I wanted to dig into the 1994 additions question for myself because I agree that it is important that we carefully consider the elements that we are proposing to demolish in the various options. Take a look at the attached, which outlines the 1994 additions that would be maintained for the ES vs demolished in option E as it stands today.

I am not getting into square footage numbers because Harriman can do that much more accurately since they have the BIM models and we will see that info soon enough...

Best,

Corinne
