

Bylaws of The Thomas Memorial Library Board of Trustees

Introduction

The Thomas Memorial Library Board of Trustees (TMLBoT) is an “advisory board”. The board represents the long-term best interest of the community and acts in an advisory capacity to the Library Director and to the town government regarding library budget, library personnel, and policy. Its main function is to encourage the public to use library facilities, collections, and programs.

Knowledge of the authority under which the board functions is essential for an effective functioning board. The responsibility and duties of the trustees should be clearly outlined in the bylaws. Implicit in that authority is the duty of all board members to work together with the library director toward providing the best library service possible with the financial means available and, if necessary, to oversee the prudent expenditure of such resources. The TMLBoT is an advocate for the library in the community and the trustees should be informed of and involved with any developments on the local, state and national level which will affect future library services.

The new era of electronic information raises new issues and challenges to libraries, and it is up to library trustees to support and be guided by the principles which have guided public library service in the past: equity, open and affordable access, privacy, first amendment rights, and easy access to electronic information.
