Confidentiality of Patron Account Information

All registration and lending records of Thomas Memorial Library are considered private and confidential as part of our commitment to intellectual freedom and the Maine Revised Statute, Title 27. Confidentiality extends to all records with identifying information about patrons, including requests for information and materials, lending transactions, the use of Library computers, and the online resources they access.

The Library will keep patron records confidential and will not use this information except as necessary for the proper operation of the Library. The Library will not disclose patron information except upon consent of the user, or pursuant to subpoena, court order, or as otherwise required by law.

Records of patrons' past borrowing are never retained.

Use of Patron's Email

By providing your email address in your Library account, you agree to receive notification emails about items requested and borrowed, along with our online newsletter of Library events and news.
